Our first priority is to move the high and middle performers to a higher level of performance. This must be done first. Second, we must move the low performers up to a higher level of performance or out of the organization within a specific time frame. By doing so, we can move the high, middle, and low performers over The Wall and eliminate the anchor weighing down the organization.